new shows take cues from current hits

The "friendly" new TV season kicks into high gear this month. On these pages, USA TODAY's TV preview introduces you to the clones of Friends, last season's freshman sensation, and all the other sitcoms and dramas premiering in the next month.

Network-by-network grids present each network's schedule, times ET/PT; new shows are shaded. The dates are the first time you can see a new series or a new episode of a returning series (they may not be on its regular night). Those shows with no dates listed after them already have been on.

In charge are advertising buyer Paul Schulman predicts the ratings winners and losers.

As shows with young, single and sometimes hip characters multiply, family sitcoms are pushed aside this fall. USA TODAY critic Matt Roush examines that trend and others. Cover story, ID.
NBC Sunday starters stumble

By Jefferson Graham
USA TODAY

Premiere week was great for Lea Thompson, Jonathan Silverman, Tea Leoni, Steve Bochco, Tea Leoni, and Nancy McKee. Their new shows all made the Nielsen top 20.

But the big losers were NBC's new leadoff hits on Sunday: the Lawrence Brothers - Joey, Matthew and Andrew - and stand-up comic Ronny Howard. The Lawrence's Brotherly Love drew an extremely low 30 rating. Sherman's Minor Adjustments got an even more abysmal 2.8, making it the lowest-rated show on the four full-time networks.

NBC blames those ratings on football telecast overruns on the East Coast. The sitcoms aired in only 60% of the country.

ABC won the first week of the new season with a 12.4 rating, and NBC was second (11.6), CBS (9.9) was third, and Fox was fourth with 7.6. Among the most notable: The Million Dollar Baby, a hit on ABC, is the first time that a show has won the first week of the season.

NBC's highly acclaimed and promoted Thursday lineup featuring newcomers Caroline in the City and The Single Guy didn't disappoint. No. 1 ER and No. 2 Seinfeld garnered their highest ratings ever.

Barbara De Angelis
Wait. There's more.

As she was preparing to head out of the country for an international concert tour, she got an offer for a key role in Arnold Schwarzenegger's new movie, "Eraser." And she got it, playing a woman in a witness protection program who is watched over by the A-Man.

"I had to go for it," she says over breakfast. "I would have killed myself on the role," says the A-Man.

Birdie, which airs Dec. 3, offered the chance to show TV audi-

“The Dragon.”
> Why leaving (if she does)?
Creative differences (sound familiar?). The role isn't round enough for her tastes. Besides, she has a book to sell.
> What it means: MTM can her, this is just the latest in a long line of failed newspaper ensemble dramas.
> Verdict: A bad thing.
